

Empty Seat? Buckle Up!

An unsecured safety belt that suddenly restricts the collective could ruin your whole day.

So it's good cockpit sense to latch the harness of an unoccupied seat...no matter what chopper you fly.

